FRAUD CHARGED; ADMITS INSOLVENCY

PONZI ARRESTED

Charles Ponzi, "mystery financier" and self-proclaimed get-rich-quick genius, was arrested today by the United States authorities, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud. Accompanied by Daniel H. Coakley of his counsel, and United States District Attorney Daniel J. Gallagher, Ponzi went to the office of United States Marshal Patrick J. Duane and surrendered. As a climax to a series of reverses, which he had suffered in the past few days, Ponzi was held in the custody of the marshal, awaiting bonds of $25,000.

Accompanied by Attorney Coakley, Ponzi originally went to the office of Attorney Gallagher on Devonshire street and stated that he was willing to surrender, as he could not meet his liabilities. The three then went to the Federal building, where Attorney Gallagher introduced Ponzi to the Marshal and said:

"Mr. Ponzi wishes to surrender to the Marshal. The complaint is being

Miners Vote General Strike to Prevent New Conflict; Premier Cancels Vacation

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 12.—The British Federation of Coal Miners today voted approval of a general strike in the United Kingdom if the "action committee" considers such a drastic step necessary to prevent a new war.

On account of the critical new European situation Premier Lloyd George has cancelled plans for his vacation in Switzerland.

WARSAW-DANZIG LINE CUT.

Official announcement that the Russians have cut the Warsaw-Danzig railway was contained in the Soviet War Office communique received from Warsaw this afternoon.

The Russians and ethnic note agreed upon armistice conditions, according to a dispatch from Dorpat this afternoon.

Premier Lloyd George, who has been making tremendous efforts to restore peace in the East and prevent a new war from sweeping Europe, was plainly anxious. It was announced at the Premier's official residence at No. 10 Downing street that no French note relative to

"HANOVER TRUST CAPITAL BADLY IMPAIRED."

The capital of the Hanover Trust Co. is "very badly impaired and is probably wiped out completely," Bank Commissioner Allen declared in a new statement today. This statement, correcting an earlier report, added that the depositors would probably be protected by the liability of the stockholders, the capital stock and the surplus.

Attorney-General Allen announced today that Ponzi's liabilities would run into the millions. He declared that the investigation made from data furnished thus far by noteholders showed liabilities of thousands of dollars.

Ponzi issued the following statement: "I had made an agreement with U. S. Atty. Gallagher that I would go to his office Friday and meet all my obligations with cash. With the closing of the Hanover Trust Co. my funds are tied up and I found myself unable to do as I had promised. Therefore I felt it my duty to look him up, explain the situation and ask him to detain me."

POSSIBLE PROFITS $19,000.00

Purchasers of options last February were enabled to draw down large profits during the recent sharp advance when the Marks sold for 3.25. Many that we know of secured options below 2c.

$40 CONTROLS 10,000 MARKS

FOR SIX MONTHS. Should Marks advance to only one-half their normal value, the net profit on an investment of $40 would amount to $600.

$75 CONTROLS 20,000 MARKS

FOR SIX MONTHS. An investment of this sum, should Marks rise to but half their normal value, will yield net profits of $1,200.

$300 CONTROLS 100,000 MARKS

FOR SIX MONTHS. Should Marks advance to 10 cents (less than half their normal value), profits from an option on 100,000 Marks would amount to $6,000, and should Marks advance to par, 23.8, the net profit will reach the astounding figure of over $19,000. We know of no speculation today that offers such possibilities for very large profits.

CHARLES PONZI SURRENDERS TO THE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

made out." The complaint later was sworn to by Chief Postoffice Inspector Hal B. Mosby.

Attorney Gallagher then issued a statement, saying:

"On Monday Ponzi said that when the audit was made he would show enough assets on Friday to cover. In a conference with postoffice inspectors yesterday, while talking with Auditor Pride, he made certain admissions. I notified Ponzi I would not wait until tomorrow. He later told me: 'I shall not be able to do tomorrow what I promised to do.'"

The Federal officials were but a few minutes ahead of the State authorities in closing the net on Ponzi, as a party sent out by Attorney-General J. Weston Allen was on the way to the Municipal Court to apply for a warrant when the arrest was made. In this party were Assistant Attorney-Generals Abbe and Hurwitz, Attorney Herbert Parker, Senator Casassa, Attorney Daniel V. Melsase of counsel for Ponzi and Captain Arstrong of police headquarters.

CURIOUS CROWD GATHERS.

It was the intention to ask Judge Bennett in the Municipal Court for a warrant for the arrest of Ponzi on the charge of larceny.

After the formal arrest of the banker had been made, and while he was awaiting arraignment, a crowd of the curious gathered in the corridors of the Federal Building, hopeful of getting upon the determined "money king." He was kept in the office of the marshal, however, and did not make an appearance.

In a short time Ponzi was taken before United States Commissioner Hayes, where upon arraignment on the charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud he pleaded not guilty and was held in $25,000 for a hearing on August 19.

FEARED FOR HIS LIFE.

Although evidently in fear that an attempt would be made on his life, and with his revolver constantly at hand, Ponzi had announced earlier in the day that he would "face the music."

While Ponzi was declaring he would prove that he was "on the level" and had no intention of fleeing the country, his wife was reported to be in a state of collapse.

Mrs. Ponzi apparently failed to aid her husband's stoutly maintained assertion that the past had nothing to do with the present, as she became hysterical, requiring the services of a physician. It was said that her breakdown was causing husband and relatives considerable concern.

Ponzi's fear that an attempt to kill him might be made was evident when he was informed of an automobile, containing two men, who loitered outside the entrance to the Lexington home. Asked if he thought the men were detectives, Ponzi nervously replied: "They are probably things."

He kept his automatic pistol at his right hand coat pocket. In addition to his bodyguards, his wife's relatives are also staying at the house.

Ponzi's fear that an attempt would be made on his life, and with his revolver constantly at hand, Ponzi had announced earlier in the day that he would "face the music."

"I am not going to flee but stay here and face the music. I am going to prove that I am on the level."

"I will not say whether or not I have told my wife of my past and what has happened. That is a private matter, which does not concern the public.

"I am through giving out statements promiscuously. Hereafter I shall be more discreet. I admit that I had a bad bump yesterday.

"I had a perfect right to draw against my certificate of deposit for $1,000,000."

Asked if he thought it would be a "good play" to have Mrs. Ponzi issue a statement backing him up, Ponzi replied:

"I am all through making plays."

The fact that Ponzi has been driven to the verge of desperation was demonstrated when he threatened to shoot newspaper men if they did not stop bothering him at his home.

This episode, during which the "mystery financier" flourished a small automatic pistol, occurred after he had made a mysterious automobile trip and had received more than a dozen business associates at his home. Suddenly striding out on the piazza, the man who heretofore has been cry for publicity, waved the pistol threateningly and warned the reporters away.

Bank Commissioner Allen issued a qualifying statement today to the effect that the capital of the Hanover Trust Company was unimpaired and he hoped no depositors would sustain a loss.

PUSH WORK ON BOOKS.

The force of auditors installed in the trust company by the bank commissioner today pushed their work on the bank's books and efforts were made to determine how many of Ponzi's checks have been certified. Bank Commissioner Allen charges a partial examination of the closed institution's banks revealed loans in excess of the law limit and others which he charged were of doubtful value.

In view of the warning that Ponzi received from the government against trafficking in international coupons speculation was rife as to whether or not the business, if illegal, would result in the confiscation of Ponzi's profits, if it is proved he made such and whether or not those who had received 50 per cent on their loans might not be compelled to disgorge their princely interest.

WARNING TO PONZI.

A communication warning Ponzi not to speculate in coupons, sent to him last April 19, follows:

"Mr. Charles Ponzi, P. O. Box 1948, Boston, Mass.

"Dear Sir:—Referring again to your letter of March 24, which the department acknowledged March 29, you are advised that international reply coupons are issued, as set forth in Section 131, Postal Laws and Regulations, 'for use in repaying international reply postage.' To effect that purpose they must be exchanged for stamps of foreign countries, and I know of no necessity for redeeming American reply coupons in this country.

"Postoffice Inspectors have reported their interview with you concerning a proposed speculation in international reply coupons issued by foreign governments. They are not intended as a medium of speculation, and the department cannot sanction their use for that purpose. Respectfully, "W. J. HARROWS, "Acting Third Assistant Postmaster General."

UNIONISTS ASK FOR DOMINION HOME RULE

London, Aug. 12—The magistrates and lieutenants of Queen's County, Ireland, who are mostly Unionists, have forwarded a resolution to the British government asking it to drop the present home rule bill and offer in its place a dominion home rule bill, drawn to the fullest measure compatible with the integrity of the United Kingdom.

Sir Thomas Stafford, a member of the Carlton Club, an exclusive Tory organization, has resigned from the Privy Council of Ireland in protest against "the refusal of Premier Lloyd George to take the only step toward Irish peace—a firm and immediate offer of dominion home rule."

TO FORCE TRUTH FROM BURRELL

Governor Moves to Learn Amount of State's Money in the Hanover Trust

Governor Coolidge today declared that unless State Treasurer Burrell revealed the amount of State funds tied up in the Hanover Trust Company he would ask the Governor's Council to force Burrell to give this information at the next session of the Council in Wednesday.

Governor Coolidge's statement was in reply to Burrell's earlier refusal to disclose how much State money was on deposit in the trust company when it was closed yesterday by Bank Commissioner Allen.

Treasurer Burrell had charged that Commissioner Allen failed to notify him of the closing of the bank in time to withdraw the State funds.

He at the same time admitted that his private advertising agency was handling accounts for the Hanover Trust Company, and resented the implication that there was anything unusual or improper about this arrangement.

LEFT THE FUNDS THERE.

Treasurer Burrell said: "In talking with Bank Commissioner Allen two days ago, he asked me if I had any State money deposited with the Hanover Trust Company. I told him I had. He said he was investigating it. I said to him, 'Had I better take the money out?' and he said 'No.' I think everything is all right. If anything develops, I will let you know.'

"The next I heard was that the bank had closed. He gave me no notice at all.

"He says in a statement to the press that it wouldn't be just to notify me and not notify other depositors. Inasmuch as the bank commissioner receives his salary from the Commonwealth and is supposed to be working in the interest of the State, as much as I am, his duty was to inform me that any bank in in which of State depositories was not in good condition.

BAD COOLIDGE'S O. K.

"The Hanover Trust Company was made a State depository on March 20, 1918, during the administration of Governor McCall, by the unanimous vote of the Council, including that of Calvin Coolidge, who was chairman of the finance committee of the Council.

"The first deposit was made on May 7, 1918, during the administration of my predecessor. Since that time the State has had a deposit in the Hanover Trust Company the same as in the other 174 State depositories."

Treasurer Burrell declined to name the amount of the deposit, saying that was "entirely in the hands of Bank Commissioner Allen." He did point out that the legal limit in depositing State money was 40 per cent of the capital of any bank.

"I will say," he admitted, "that the State deposit in the Hanover Trust is far below the legal limit."

As the capital stock of the Hanover is $400,000, this would place the deposit "far below" $160,000, which is 40 per cent, of the stock.

THINKS MONEY IS SAFE.

"This deposit has increased somewhat," said Mr. Burrell, "but only in comparison with the increases of assets of the bank. Most banks have been handling more money than in former years and some have increased their capital. I believe the bank is solvent and that the State, in common with all other depositors, will receive dollar for dollar on its deposit, plus interest."

Treasurer Burrell during the interview expressed resentment because of a story in a morning paper to the effect that he was handling the advertising for the Hanover Trust Company in a private capacity and supervising it in his official capacity at the same time.

"I am handling their advertising," he said. "It is one of many accounts handled at my office. The account was obtained, not by me, but by Warren L. Newcomb, an agent. I resent the implication that there is anything questionable in such a connection."

'Ponzi' Derived From Verb 'Ponzare'

Consulting Melzi's latest Italian dictionary, the proper name Ponzi is found to be derived from the objective verb Ponzare.

Ponzare means, among several connotations:

To manifest intense interest in other people's welfare, but to do so insincerely.

Its commonly accepted meaning is:

To make many exaggerated promises and not to keep any of them.

ACCUSED GIRL TRIES SUICIDE

Charged With Taking Money From Landlady; Drank Dose as Police Came

Bertis Frederick, twenty years old, who has roomed at No. 37 Shirley street, Winthrop, for the last six weeks, has been taken to the Metcalf Hospital, Winthrop, in a dangerous condition, as the result of taking poisonous tablets after two police officers had called to arrest her.

The police were summoned by the girl's landlady, Mrs. Frank Fall, after she had requested Miss Frederick to return $25, two railroad tickets, and other money, which, so the landlady alleges, Miss Frederick took from herself and one of her roomers. The girl, according to the landlady, refused to return the money.

It is said that Miss Frederick has a mother in New York. A brother, who lives at No. 201 Winthrop street, said his sister received a fall, when at school in New York, and that, since then, every six months, she is seized with a desire to take things.

It is also stated that the Frederick girl has been a nurse in a Philadelphia hospital.

At the time of her arrest she was a telephone operator at the Main Exchange.

100 PER CENT. PROFIT FIRM IGNORES WARNING TO QUIT

IMITATOR OF PONZI IS BUSY

Pelletier Unable to Stop Old Colony Foreign Exchange Co. Get-Rich-Quick Scheme

Despite the fact that Charles Ponzi has been forced to suspend operations, the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company is still doing a similar business at No. 54 Devonshire street and No. 89 State street.

Although District Attorney Pelletier said that this company outfooled Ponzi, he declared that he had no power to force the concern to cease.

The Old Colony Company was warned to quit two weeks ago by Pelletier. The public was given to understand that one word from the D. A. would be enough.

"I'm sorry," Pelletier said today when a reporter for the Boston American told him of the willingness of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange folks to take a mythical $500 and pay $60 per cent. on it, "but at present there is no law to prevent somebody from borrowing your money if you feel disposed to lend it. The best I can do is to warn everybody against these people. I have been unable to find that they had any property to start with beyond $500 in cash. Their game is in a class with Ponzi's."

A certificate for a $500 loan made an recently as Monday of this week was placed in the hands of this newspaper. It shows that the Old Colony Foreign Exchange crowd apparently has no intention to quit a rich field, warning of no warning.

REPORTER VISITS OFFICES.

To make sure that the game was still in progress a reporter visited the Devonshire street offices. They are quite elaborate.

Seven young women were making out certificates and taking in the "dough." The reporter was asked if he desired to become an agent. No, he said, he thought he would like to invest. There was a sparano call for Mr. Fred Meyers. He presented himself.

"I have," said the reporter, "five hundred dollars that I wish to invest. What can you do for me with it?"

Meyers beamed.

IS OFFERED 100 PER CENT.

"I can," he said, "give you 100 per cent. on your money in the form of a debenture which, should it be deemed wise, may be cashed in ninety days at 50 per cent. profit."

"And how will it be invested? What will you do with it?"

"My boy," said Meyers, "we handle everything from a spool of thread up to a mowing machine."

"And where do you do this business?"

"All over Europe! We have agents everywhere."

The newspaper man promised to call again with money. Meyers was still beaming.

STARTED ON $500 CAPITAL.

The $500 note in the possession of the American bears the signatures of C. M. Brightwell, as treasurer, and R. M. Meyers, as secretary. Against the assertion of Fred Meyers that the company is "doing business all over Europe," and has "agents everywhere," is the fact that, according to the records at City Hall, the company was born under a declaration of trust as recently as July 8. In thirty-five days, according to the Meyers' statement, it has extended over Europe. Pretty good to talk like that.

"These people told me two weeks ago," District Attorney Pelletier says, "that they knew nothing of the business they said they were planning to enter, that they had no property, and that their assets on that day amounted to a paltry $500.

BEATS PONZI, SAYS PELLETIER.

"This money they said was to deposit with the Fidelity Trust Company. I am told that at the very urgent invitation of the Fidelity Trust the account was transferred forward carried to another institution."

"All I can do at present," the District Attorney said, "is to warn the public that this scheme beats Ponzi's."

In the declaration of trust filed at City Hall, the trustees of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company are named as Raymond M. Meyers, Charles M. Brightwell and Gunnar R. A. Lindblad.

District Attorney Pelletier says they came here recently from New York. Some of the Ponzi agents have gone to work for the new concern.

FINDS NO STOCK SOLD.

On the record at City Hall the trustees declare under oath that the company is to be capitalized at $1,-

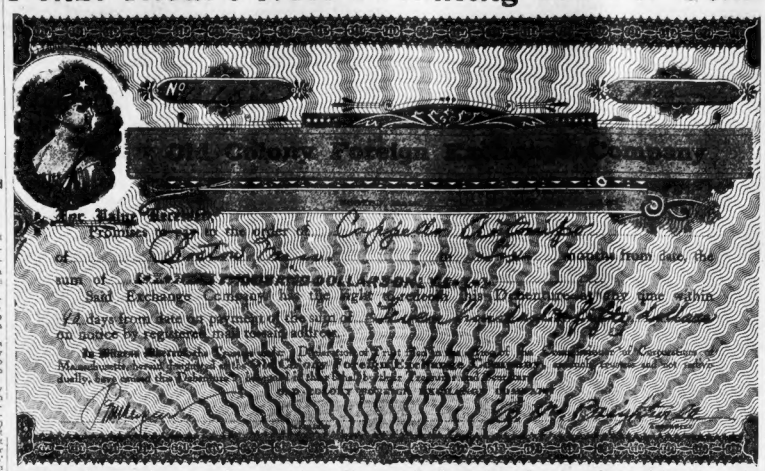
Ponzi Rival's Note Promising 100 Per Cent.



A photographic reproduction of a certificate issued by the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company under date of August 11 on a loan of $500, which reveals that this 35-day-old get-rich-quick Boston concern is still doing business despite the Ponzi fiasco and the warnings of District Attorney Pelletier.

000,000, represented by 10,000 units of $100 each, Pelletier states that, so far as he can learn, not a cent's worth of stock was ever sold.

The declaration is a lengthy document in which three typewritten pages are devoted to a description of the business in which the company will engage. It will "buy, sell and deal in foreign exchange, foreign stamps, bonds, bills, money, notes and all other evidences of indebtedness"; and is "to buy, purchase, sell and deal in all kinds of property for export and import."

The trustees are not to be held responsible for any loss to clients, according to Section 21 of the declaration, which reads:

"There shall be no personal liability on the part of the trustees or on the part of the Board of Directors or on the part of the holders of certificates of units in the said trust. In all contracts made by the Board of Directors reference shall be made to this Trust and the property of the Trust alone shall be held liable for obligations incurred by the Board of Directors or Trustees hereinafter."

Further, the declaration states: "The Board of Directors shall not be held personally liable for errors of judgment or for any loss arising out of any investment or for any act or commission of any act performed or permitted to be performed by them in good faith, nor shall they be liable to the acts or omissions of each other or of any officer, agent or servant appointed or acting for them."

PELLETIER'S WARNING URGENT.

"The company is formed to undertake and carry on the business, transaction or operation commonly undertaken or carried on by contractors, capitalists, financiers and generally to institute, enter into or carry on or assist, promote or participate in financial, commercial, mercantile, industrial and other business, work, contracts, undertakings and operations."

"Make my warning to the public against this concern as strong as you know how," says District Attorney Pelletier. "Such a warning could not to be necessary but there is one born every minute and two to take him."

$500,000 NOTES HELD BY ALLEN

Ponzi's Liabilities Grow Rapidly as Bottom Turns in Their Paper

One thousand investors in the Ponzi scheme have already turned over unpaid notes for a total of $500,000 to Attorney-General Allen's office, it was announced today.

A score of people were waiting at the State House today for the office of the special commission handling the matter to open. The crowd grew steadily until at noon it was necessary to impress extra auditors and clerks into service.

In addition to the notes presented in person, hundreds were arriving in each mail, according to the commission.

The average of the notes is $500, and the holders in evidence at the State House were mostly poor people, many of them from the North End. Several admitted they put in their life savings.

One woman said she invested $1,000, which was all the money she and her husband had. It represented the damages paid him by an industrial corporation after he had lost a leg.

A North End restaurant owner was among the note-holders. He is understood to have loaned $75,000 for himself and friends, mortgaging his grocery store to get money.

Senator Andrew A. Cassassa of Revere is chairman of the special committee which is receiving the notes. The other members are former Representative Vincent Brogna and John E. Crowley.

Says Ponzi's Loans Exceed His Assets

The Boston Financial News bulletin service says today it is in a position to state that Ponzi took in cash, through his whole organization, over $14,000,000. Of this amount he has paid out during the last two weeks, since he has ceased taking in money, over $6,000,000, of which $5,900,000 was paid through the Hanover Trust Co. and smaller amounts through other banks. He now has outstanding loans of over $8,000,000. Including the certificate of deposit in the Hanover Trust Co. he is known to have securities of approximately $2,300,000, but he claims to have other securities.

PONZI DEFENSE CONTRADICTED

Montreal Police Claim He Stole Check, Forged Signature and Spent Money for Clothes

Montreal, Aug. 12—The police authorities of this city today contradicted the statement made by Charles Ponzi to Boston newspaper men that he confessed to the crime of forgery because he desired to save the family of Zarossi, the Italian banker, who employed him and who fled to Mexico after his institution had failed.

The Montreal version of his crime follows:

Ponzi stole a blank check from the Canadian Warehouse Co., traced the signature of the manager of the concern after filling in the check for $423.55, and then cashed it. August 28, 1908, the records state.

The police record sets forth that with the money obtained by forgery Ponzi admitted buying a diamond, watch and chain, an overcoat, shirts, neckties and other wearing apparel.

Like Ponzi's Boston venture, the police state, Zarossi's Montreal operations were cloaked in mystery and came "within a hair" of being within the law. When the company "blew up" Zarossi fled to Mexico to escape prosecution and one of his employees and chief aides in the venture committed suicide.

SUFFRAGE VOTE TOMORROW

Both Houses in Tennessee Legislature Ready for Final Action

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 12—The suffrage amendment will come up in both Houses for a final vote tomorrow.

Announcement to this effect was made today by Speaker Andrew Todd of the Tennessee Senate and by Representative T. J. Hiddick, floor leader in the House for the suffragists, both stating that their committees would report back the first resolution on that day.

Encouraged by a test in the lower house, which showed the suffragists in the majority, leaders of the ratification fight were busy today shaping plans for a joint hearing tonight.

The test vote came on a resolution to refer ratification to the counties in mass meeting on August 24. Seth Walker of the House, left the chair to fight for the resolution and made a vigorous plea for its adoption.

Suffrage leaders were disconcerted, but kept revived with the failure of an amendment proposing that the referendum would not be binding unless a majority of the qualified voters participated. This was followed by the tabling of the original resolution by a vote of fifty to thirty-seven.

Anti-suffrage leaders insisted that the vote did not represent a correct poll. They held that Republican strength, which went almost solidly for the resolution and which proposed the amendment that was defeated, was merely a trick to put the Democratic majority in a hole. Suffragists admitted that the vote did not represent final totals.

Governor Roberts was on the floor working freely with members during the fight. He is a suffrage advocate.

HIGHER EXPRESS RATES ASKED

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Application for permission to file supplementary requests for increased express rates to cover the increased wage award to employes today was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the American Railway Express Company.

The company further requested that it be permitted to file applications for increased milk and cream rates on the same percentage basis of increase prevailing for railroads for carrying these commodities as fast freight.

Although he is only thirty-five years old, he promptly disposed of the concern and retired. He resides at No. 24 West Fifty-ninth street, New York, and has a country place near Saratoga. He met Miss Kane for the first time eight years ago.

Gail Kane is a native of Chestnut Hill, near Philadelphia. She first displayed her talent in amateur theatricals at St. Mary's Convent, Newburgh, N. Y. Heat Saps Power; Store up Energy

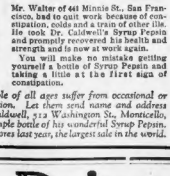
Keep digestion perfect with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will have strength to work

SUMMER is the season of vacations, of slowing up in work. And there is a good reason for it. Heat is enervating and work quickly tires. But people must work, and we should all keep ourselves in such fine physical condition that we can do our share even in hot weather.

Of first importance is to see that there is a regular, daily bowel elimination. If you skip a day you are constipated. Constipation, especially in summer, is quickly followed by fatigue, loss of appetite, chills and colds. There is no energy for work.

When you feel constipated and out of sorts, more tired than you know the circumstances warrant, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This delightful laxative-tonic is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin and can be bought at any drug store.

Syrup Pepsin will quickly relieve your constipation and give you a feeling of lightness and clear headedness.



Mr. Walter of 441 Minnie St., San Francisco, had to quit work because of constipation, sour stomach and other ills. He took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and promptly recovered his health and strength and is now at work again.

You will make no mistake getting yourself a bottle of Syrup Pepsin and taking a little at the first sign of constipation.

FREE Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN SPLIT OVER POLAND

France's new Russian policy had yet been received.

LINE-UP OF THE NATIONS.

The lineup of the powers is described as follows:

GREAT BRITAIN—Demands a free and independent Poland, but is willing to make concessions to the Soviet government at Moscow.

FRANCE—Hostile to the Soviet government and will support the de facto government of General Wrangel by force of arms.

ITALY—Opposed to war or blockade against Russia.

UNITED STATES—Demands a free and independent Poland, and is hostile to recognition of the Soviet government.

JAPAN—Attitude unknown, but has recently effected an armistice with the Russian Bolsheviki in Siberia.

GERMANY—Future German attitude to be dictated by circumstances.

RUMANIA—Reported to be ready to go to war with Soviet Russia.

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA—Is maintaining an attitude of neutrality, but is believed to be averse to giving military assistance to Poland.

HUNGARY—Has already offered to go to war against Soviet Russia.

MINSK PARLEY DELAYED.

Advices from Warsaw said that the Russo-Polish parley at Minsk had been delayed. In the meanwhile, the Russian army is still moving upon Warsaw, and violent fighting is reported on the Polish front.

Premier Lloyd George today sent a communication to M. Kamenoff, one of the members of the Bolshevik Trade Mission regarding the delay in getting armistice and preliminary peace negotiations started between the Poles and Russians at Minsk.

The Premier expressed the hope that M. Kamenoff would send instructions regarding the reception of the Polish envoys and their freedom of action in using wireless to communicate with their home government.

The military situation has been stabilized, according to a news agency dispatch from Warsaw. It said that both the Russians and Poles have regrouped their armies along the Bug River and east of Warsaw. General Haller's volunteer army of Poles is now on the firing line.

Paris Expects America to Support French Policy

By International News Service.

Paris, Aug. 12.—France has definitely broken with Great Britain on Russian policy, according to all indications today.

The French press generally regards the decision of the French government to recognize the anti-Bolshevik de facto government of General Wrangel in Southern Russia as a direct result of Premier Lloyd George's speech in the House of Commons at London on Tuesday.

A communication from the British government regarding France's decision was received at the French Foreign Office today. It was stated officially the divergence of views between France and Great Britain are being examined in the most amicable manner by Great Britain.

French deputies are pressing for the convocation of Parliament immediately to consider the Russian policy.

The American note on the Russo-Polish situation is in complete accord with the French view, it was announced by the Foreign Office.

"Will Soviet Russia declare war on France?" was the flaring headline across the first page of the Paris Midi.

The Socialist newspaper Humanite calls the new French policy provocative.

"Recognition of General Wrangel's government is rousting France which remained of the British alliance," said L'Oeuvre.

The Journal declared recognition of General Wrangel's government was designed to renew the Poles' courage. It adds: "We can say the same thing of President Wilson's new note on Russo-Polish affairs."

"If things have reached this point isn't it a fact that London has long held to mediocre account France's legitimate desires and most pressing objections?" demands the Petit Parisien.

Gaulois says: "Saving Poland is a duty, but let us remember the necessity of defending the Rhine. An alliance with Great Britain is indispensable."

According to former Premier Clemenceau's newspaper, Homme Libre, General Wrangel will send troops to assist the Poles in Galicia. The following Bucharest telegram was printed by Homme Libre:

"Rumania is understood to have consented to allow General Wrangel to send an army corps through Bessarabia to Galicia, as a result of allied insistence."

Shock-Absorbers For False Teeth

Cleveland, June 15.—Non-Skid shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application, but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which, sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion which holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they ride over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c at Druggists.—Advertisement.

NEW JAP COLONY NEAR BORDER

State Department Report Tells of New Settlement in Lower California

Washington, Aug. 12.—The State Department is watching Lower California, following the report that Japanese are colonizing on a 3,000-acre tract three miles south of the border.

There are now 800 Japanese in Lower California, according to State Department information, and the number is mounting steadily.

Article 27 of the Carranza constitution, which is still in force, prohibits alien ownership of land within thirty miles of the American border. It does not, however, prevent aliens from leasing or renting property in that restricted area.

WHEN YOUR COMPLEXION BEGINS TO FADE WITH AGE

You Can Preserve That Clear, Smooth Tint of Youth.

By the Occasional Use of the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment.

As the years go by, women lose that baby-like softness and the rosy tint which both are blessed in their girlhood days. Face powders, rouge and toilet creams all help and serve as a mask for their faded, sallow complexion—but such results serve only for a few hours.

The Black and White Beauty Treatment will restore that bloom of youth so much desired—make mothers and daughters appear to be sisters—and is use both safe and delightful. Before retiring, you bathe your face with Black and White Soap, then apply the creamy Ointment and wash off the next morning. You'll be so well pleased with this home beauty treatment that a package of both Black and White Ointment and Black and White Soap will always have a place on your dressing table.

Your druggist sells both Black and White Ointment and Black and White Soap at 25c each or the manufacturers will send both on receipt of 50c.

A sample, literature and Black and White Beauty and Cream Book will be sent you free if you clip and mail this advertisement to BLACK and WHITE, Box 913, Memphis, Tenn.

DECLAMECY MAY BE RE-JAILED

Board to Decide if He Broke Parole by Taking Baumeister Girl to Providence

Whether "General" Phillips De Clamecy, who eloped with Miss Marion E. Baumeister of Cambridge to Providence, returned to Charlestown State Prison for violating the terms of his parole because of the escapade, will be determined by the parole board today on a report from Deputy Commissioner of Corrections Bagley.

De Clamecy has been returned to State Prison twice for violating his parole. If the board should decide that he has not violated his parole he is still liable to prosecution under the Mann Act for taking the young Cambridge girl to Providence.

Miss Baumeister is still willing to marry De Clamecy if he can prove that he is legally free to do so, according to a statement accredited to her mother at their home, where she is now.

Worcester, Aug. 12.—An all night vigil was maintained by prohibition enforcement agents, armed with loaded revolvers and carrying red lanterns, at the Worcester-Leicester line on the automobile road between Boston and New York. Every car that passed them was held up and searched for liquor. Two cars were found to contain contraband and their drivers were ordered to appear before United States Commissioner Dresser for hearing.

One car, after being stopped, sped away at a speed of sixty miles an hour. The officers gave chase in another automobile they commandeered, firing three shots in a vain effort to stop the fugitive machine.

DEMOCRATS SEE 'FIRST BLOOD'

Republicans, Confused by Cox, Change Plan of Attack, Say Leaders

Washington, Aug. 12.—Democratic leaders claim "first blood" in the Presidential campaign as a result of the announcement that Republicans propose to turn their campaign fire against the administration generally, instead of against the League of Nations particularly.

It will result in practically all the Wilson cabinet members taking part in the campaign.

"The Republicans have admitted that Governor Cox in his speech of acceptance unhorsed them, and by their announced change of program they are depleting their own confusion," says Senator Dial of South Carolina.

"And when they turn to attacks upon the Wilson administration they prepare for themselves an even bitterer dose," he added. "They relive national attention to their own crippling."

Men's Sturdy Fancy Shirts 2 For $3.38

Not less than two or more than four will be sold to one man, none will be sold to women, except you make arrangements with the head of the Shirt Department. For I do not want the busy business man, the polished, refined gentleman, to be crowded back and wait for the women to get waited on. Therefore, again I repeat that except a lady makes special arrangements with the head of the Shirt Department for these shirts, because her husband is busy and cannot come to this sale, otherwise this very special lot will be sold to men only. Just a line more to the men on this shirt subject, prudence brings light in dark places; it is the best medicine that can be administered to men of this generation. I know the big, busy business men will flood this shirt department tomorrow because you haven't had a shirt price like this in several years.

2400 pairs of the famous BACHELOR FRIEND HOSIERY for men will be placed in my Lockhart Mill End Sale Friday. Six pairs in a box, at the Mill End price, per box $2.49. A written guarantee for six months goes with every box.

Sizes 9½ to 11½, a wide range of shades and colors to please observers of good taste. It is singularly refreshing to note the individual man distinguishes between the true and the false. The poor devil who does not possess enough solid mental improvement to tell at a glance when he reads an advertisement the difference between statements that are vague and doubtful and those that are outspoken and clear should not trust himself to buy his own merchandise. Men's hosiery are an every day staple, standard necessity, and I feel every bargain lot I can give with the stamp of Bachelor Friend Hosiery will bring other men to this sale. I do this to advertise.

This extraordinary exhibition and sale of men's neckwear at $1.00 towers far above any neckwear sale I have attempted in the City of Boston. These are beautiful four-in-hand scarfs, rich in the early color frostings of Fall that came to us in an unusual way; details are uninteresting, but if given would prove conclusively that these are not dollar scarfs but exceptional qualities that the Boston men will appreciate.

DEALERS PREDICT 15-CENT SUGAR

New York, Aug. 12.—Prospects of sugar at between thirteen and fifteen cents a pound within a fortnight, a prediction made by wholesale grocers, brings joy to thousands of housewives, who have been anxious regarding the fall fruit preserving season.

The sugar market in New York is well stocked but the price has been supported around twenty-three cents a pound by the drain on the market made by the manufacturers of Summer soft drinks.

French Urge Coins All Nations Can Use

By Universal Service.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Owing to the complete disappearance from circulation of all silver coins the French mint will suggest the minting of one, two and five franc pieces by an international coinage congress.

The metal for the coins would be a combination of silver, aluminum and copper and would be less valuable as bullion than as coin. This, it is held, would discourage the hoarding and melting down that has occurred because the silver in the present coins is of greater value than the stamped value of the coin. It is proposed that the "international money" be good throughout the world.

The spectacular search, it is reported, may reveal the fate of fifteen-months-old Blakely Coughlin, stolen from his parents' Norristown home on June 2.

NEW ENGLAND GIRLS TRAIN FOR AMERICAN'S SWIM

Enrollment of girls for the Boston American big swim to be held in the Charles River Basin, West End, Saturday afternoon, August 28, continues. No fee is required to enter.

Entries are from all sections of New England. Among them are Claire and Ethel, the seven-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Mathie of Willimatic, Ct. The Charles River Basin course is one and one-half miles and 200 feet from the raft of the Metropolitan Park Commission, opposite the Union Boat clubhouse, up stream to Harvard bridge, turning the stake boat at the right, and thence down stream to the starting point. Prices—

Up or Down?

High prices for livestock increase the producer's income. Low prices decrease it and even result in losses. Similarly, high prices for meat increase consumer's expenses.

But Swift & Company as a middleman does not benefit by high or low prices. Our income depends not on a high level of prices or a low level, but rather on the margin between the live-stock price and the meat and by-products price.

The company's only concern, in whether prices should be high or low, is that they should be high enough to satisfy producers and low enough to please consumers; but over the movement of these prices Swift & Company has no control.

Swift & Company is compelled by competition to pay high enough prices for livestock to secure an adequate supply. We must sell meat at a price low enough to make it move. We endeavor also, between the two prices, to secure a margin large enough to pay all expenses and yield a fair profit.

Our profit for 1919 averaged less than two cents on each dollar of sales, or 6⅞ per cent on money invested.

HOUSING RELIEF ACTION TAKEN

Wants Unexpended Funds for Charitable Purposes Listed and Use Diverted

Mayor Peters has taken active steps to relieve the housing shortage. The City Planning Board at his request stated to obtain an authentic list of all unexpended funds gathered for charitable purposes and held in banks. The Mayor intends to convert the funds to housing purposes.

Attorney Raymond F. Delano of Dorchester, recently called the attention of the city housing committee to the statement that, owing to inadequate laws governing the raising and distribution of public or charitable funds, there are between $1,000,000 and $10,000,000 of such unexpended funds within Massachusetts.

"Having in mind the possibility of the use of these funds, possibly through legislative act, for housing purposes," the Mayor wrote Ralph Adams Cram, chairman of the Planning Board, "I herewith authorize the City Planning Board to take such steps as may be necessary to obtain authentic lists of such unexpended balances of funds gathered by public subscription for charitable purposes as may be in existence at the present time."

In passing sentence upon the man, Judge Riley said that he will henceforth impose six months sentence on all persons brought before him charged with selling that "kind of poison."

Anyone Now Can Have Pretty Curls and Waves

Hair tortured with the hot-curling iron is bound to become dry, harsh and brittle, as so many know from sad experience. It's far more sensible to use the simple silmerine method, which can do no harm and which produces a curl-ness much prettier and more natural in appearance. And the effect lasts much longer, particularly in hot, moist or windy weather. Silmerine is also a fine dressing for the hair, preserving its texture and health, keeping it delightfully soft and glossy.

Liquid silmerine is not sticky or greasy and it won't stain or streak hair or scalp. Get a few ounces from the druggist, pour a little into a saucer and with a clean tooth brush apply evenly to the hair just before doing it up. The added glory to your "crowning glory" will be quite remarkable.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Mannix, in Erin, Hopes to See Son

By Universal Service.

Dublin, Aug. 12.—"My son is a man of peace, he wouldn't hurt a fly," was the comment of Mrs. Mannix, eighty-nine, the mother of Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix of Melbourne, Australia, now in England under surveillance. "I hope that God will spare him and induce the English officials to let him come home to me. I am too old to make the trip to England to see him."

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "Tiz."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wiggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, calluses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Advertisement.

Instant Beauty for Everyone Says that Famous Actress Viola Dana Who Tells What To Do Just Make this Simple Test.

MISS VIOLA DANA

New York—"I am often asked how I keep my complexion so fresh looking," says Miss Viola Dana the Selznick Classic Star, in a recent interview. "It is a simple process for anyone to have a smooth velvety, rosy-white complexion and unwrinkled skin if they will devote just a little time to caring for it. I can truly say absolutely necessary in developing a clear healthy skin for the purpose of a good looking complexion Ingram's Milkweed Cream I have found to be the best. Follow this by bathing the face with warm water, then use cold water and thoroughly and quickly dry in a complexion preparation which can be obtained at any up to date drug or department store. This marvelous preparation instantly beautifies the complexion and the continued use makes the skin perfect. You can form an idea what a wonderful effect it has upon the skin until you try it. Here is the best way to treat it. Put it on one night the first then look in your mirror and note the surprising change. You will need no further argument to convince you that there is nothing like it for beautifying purposes. The instant results it gives is the reason for its popularity with actresses and those who realize the value of a rosy-white smooth complexion. It takes but little of your time to prepare the splendid results it gives and the fact that it is used and endorsed by leading beauty specialists speaks volumes for its efficacy. Ingram's is especially recommended for dark sallow skin, tan, shiny nose, blackheads, coarse pores, freckles and unsightly facial blemishes. Many use it in preference to face powders or all other beautifiers as it is more lifelike in appearance. Perfection does not affect it, therefore it stays on better does not run often, clogging and thus cannot be detected. It is guaranteed absolutely harmless on the most delicate skin and will not injure or produce a growth of hair. Now that short sleeves are in vogue you will want beautiful hands and arms. There is nothing like Ingram's for this purpose. Five thousand Boston girls and women are using it and they are just as enthusiastic over it as we are. It is rapidly becoming a regular fad and if you have not taken a complexion which will attract favorable comment everywhere just give Ingram's a trial and I am sure to be delighted with it. Do not accept substitutes then you will not be disappointed as there is nothing "just as good." Obtain "Ingram's" like "Ingram's" there is a fair honest proposition by the dealers and department stores of this city. Get a bottle of them to-day, or write them for a trial for a few days and if you don't like it better than any cream you have ever used, they will be fairer. It is sold in Boston and vicinity by all up-to-date druggists and department stores.

"JAY" WALKING TO BE STOPPED

Traffic Officers Begin Work of Guiding Careless Pedestrians

As a result of a large number of motor accidents caused by jay walkers refusing to heed commands of policemen, mounted traffic officers began today to demonstrate their energies on guiding pedestrians across busy thoroughfares.

Under the street traffic rules persons violating these commands may be summoned into court, but the police are anxious to avoid such a line of measures.

Lieutenant Bernard J. Hoppe head of the traffic division, in emphasizing the need of a bid caution crossing Boston's congested [illegible] urges pedestrians to act as drivers to co-operate with each other and with officers.

"There are approximately 20,000 automobiles in the state this year, compared to 17,000 a year ago," he said. "And the arrivals are not growing any wider. If we could eliminate three or four persons on the streets citizens wouldn't dare cross in between and with only two feet they are willing to take chances.

"Notice some people as they walk along reading about the Ponzi case. They step off the sidewalk and into the direct path of an automobile or else they suddenly change their minds half way across the street and turn around. Our scheme is to educate the public to emphasize the danger of careless walking and to cut down the number of accidents."

REAL STRUGGLE OPENS IN TITLE GOLF MATCH

3 BOSTON PLAYERS QUALIFY

Toledo Tourney Fast Approaching the Point Where Stars Alone Can Remain

By ROBERT E. HARLOW,
Correspondent of the Boston American.

Toledo, O., Aug. 12.—The real struggle for the American open golf championship began today on the links of the Inverness Country Club, when 69 golfers who survived the qualifying round started on the first 36 holes in the 72-hole medal play competition for the title.

The scores which the players strove so hard to get in the qualifying round in order to be able to play today were taken down last night and all the players were level as they went off the first tee. The man who has the lowest card for the four rounds starting today wins the championship.

The weather was threatening when the first pair left the tee. The draw provided many interesting pairs for the galleries to follow.

Douglas Edgar, the Canadian open champion, played with Mike Brady. Bob McDonald and Chick Evans, leading professional and amateur shots from Chicago, were paired as were Jock Hutchinson and Walter Hagen. The scores:

Douglas Edgar, 73.
Mike Brady, 77.
Charles Thom, New York, 79.
Alex Ross, Detroit, 80.

Three Boston Golfers Qualify in National

The boys went so fast in the qualifying round that it required nothing worse than 153 to get into the championship proper which got under way today with the seventeenth part of a field seeking the American title. The Boston district is lucky to have three representatives included in the sixty-six qualified.

Two from Boston would have been on the mourners' bench today if they had used one more shot than they did. They just got in with the 157 score.

That were George Bowden, the State open championship and professional at Commonwealth, and John Cowan, professional at Oakley. Lou Tellier of Brae-Burn was well up, with a total of 149 for the qualifying rounds.

Cowan Had Close Call in Finishing

John Cowan came through with a near finish. He was off Tuesday and grabbed 82 while, with a hooked to be sh.t as much use as a million the way the ball was shooting. John finished in the rough at Brae-Burn in the same event last year and he went out Wednesday determined to earn one her chance to play for the large silver mug. He came home with a 77, which added to his 82, gave him 159.

Cowan had to play the last three holes in four strokes to fit. Considering the pressure he was under he did something when he accomplished it.

His card.
4 4 5 3 5 4 3 5 5—38
4 5 5 4 5 5 4 4 4—40—78

George Bowden took 79 the first day and he also had to unload another better than 80-round to get inside, he got 78.

His card.
5 4 4 5 4 5 5 4 5—40
4 4 5 3 4 5 4 5 5—39—79

Lou Tellier had two fine rounds in the qualifying skirmish. He added a 78 today to his 74 of yesterday.

His card
5 5 3 4 5 4 4 4 4—38
3 5 5 5 5 6 4 4 4—37—75

Another former Boston golfer staged the best comeback of the day. The honor fell to Tom Kerrigan, now professional at the Siwanoy Club. Tom used 81 on Tuesday and the wise crackers said he was all done.

Tommy showed them a 78 on his second try and had 154 for a total which left him inside the list of those who are playing today. Tom's card looked real pretty on the score board. It follows:

4 5 3 4 4 5 5 5 5—36
4 4 4 3 5 4 4 4 5—37—73

Hutchinson Showed Way to All Others

The only thing around Inverness that was easier to look at than Tommy's card was that record round of Jock Hutchinson, the Chicago Scotchman, who went wild on the first nine and refused to be locked up until he had brought in a 69.

He was out in 33, which is as near nothing as anyone is likely to do the first nine at Inverness on. His card had three threes and six fours going out.

Mike Brady, also a former Bostonian, continued in the play today. Mike was 1... Alex Cowan of Dedham, Mass., came nearer than any others from New Eng and to qualifying. Alex was 10 strokes or 154 which was only two shots too many. It was a fine showing and for the class of America.

H. V. Hoare of Toledo was 147. He said that he could not get results on the greens. He played well in the rain but failed to get down in two putts on many greens.

C. I. McGrath of Worcester withdrew. Larry Paton got an 82 and an 83 for 165, the same number as W. Le Turk, a former Dedham pro, used.

Boston golfers are paired today as follows in the national open golf championship:

John Cowan and Fred Bell.
Lou Tellier and L. B. Aron.
George Bowden and Gene Sarazen.

The golfers will play thirty-six holes today morning and afternoon rounds with the same schedule tomorrow. There will be new pairings for tomorrow.

The two days of play showed clearly that some great golfers are being developed in the United States. The contest for the championship will continue through Friday with thirty-six holes of medal play for two out of

Vardon and Ray Both Qualify

The West qualified thirty players, the East twenty-one, the South six, Great Britain three and Canada one. Chicago did better than any other single city, getting eight inside of the 154 mark. Eight of the seventy-seven who qualified are amateurs, but the only one of the number who stand a chance to win are Bobby Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, Chick Evans, Jr., of Chicago and Rudolph Knepper of Sioux City.

The English professionals, Harry Vardon and Ted Ray, qualified as did T. D. Armour of Scotland an amateur who holds the French amateur championship. Ray shot a 77 and finished with a total of 158, the same number that Mike Brady and Walter Hagen, the American open champion used. Harry Vardon took 173.

Frank Aloisio of Winnipeg was well up with two rounds of 74 for a 148 total.

SO far no word from the victim. Ernesto gazed at the face drawn with pain, and then thought of the woman in the next room. Drops of water gathered on his forehead. His knees shook. What was he to do?

He asked in a voice that sounded unlike any voice he had ever heard. "Will he live?"

"Fool" said Severo, glaring at him. "Don't you see he's regaining consciousness?"

Silence. Julian opened his eyes. "Get out of sight!" whispered Severo, and the poet slunk into a corner.

The doctors were busy; one brought water, the other applied ammonia and bandages. There, quiet now rest no worry and well pull him through.

The duelist opened his eyes, gazed about in a dazed way and relapsed into seeming coma.

"How long will he remain here?" asked Ernesto, anything to say words, fearful of exposure, aware of the terrible, the inescapable catastrophe that had befallen him.

The doctor who had spoken shook his head. "No telling, probably all night. He'll be a little more comfortable in the morning; we shall see. It's money he wants." Don Severo stared at the young man. Why this pallor, this trembling? He glanced toward the bedroom. Why, the poet's terror when they had first entered. His complexions were cut short by a cry of pain wrung from the wounded man. The old feeling of protection for his patron sent Ernesto rushing to his side. He held up the head tenderly. He, too, suffered.

Julian Gasped

Thus the tableau when Julian, gasping aloud, cried for water. At the sound of her husband's voice, Teodora pushed open the bedroom door, and, rushing forward, threw herself beside him.

Ernesto, rallying, sprang his place, caught the assassin on the far

La-may Face Powder is Guaranteed Pure and Harmless.

Pure face powder cannot injure the most delicate baby skin. The trouble is, too many powders are made in the old-fashioned way, with rice powder. Rice powder is starchy, and, like bread flour, it is quickly turned into a sticky paste by the moisture of the skin. This paste clogs the cuticle, swells in the pores, causing enlarged pores, blackheads and pimples. A specialist makes a harmless powder by using an ingredient doctors prescribe to heal the skin. Every time you apply this improved powder you give your complexion a real beauty treatment. There is a thousand dollar guarantee of purity printed on the box, certifying it does not contain white lead, zinc, talc or any harmful substance. This guaranteed pure powder is called La-may (French, Poudre L'Amie). Because it is pure and harmless La-may is now used by over a million American women; it is now the most popular complexion powder sold in New York. Women who have used even the most expensive face powders say La-may stays on better than any others; they say they can not buy a better powder anywhere at any price. There is also a La-may Talcum that prevents the souring of perspiration, of Severo. Here was evidence there was no gainsaying; the wife of Julian in the bedroom of the poet and on the very first evening of his departure from her husband's home!

The doctors stood by, cautioning the woman. At the sound of quiet, Julian's eyes opened and, in the first flash of their recognition of Teodora, betrayed only his love for the girl he had known. That look faded quickly as his brain took in the situation.

"You here?" he gasped. "Where did you come from?"

The woman realized Don Severo's face told her, that was no time for prevarication. I came from that room. I heard your voice, my Julian. I could not remain hidden."

With superhuman effort Julian raised himself, while the doctors rushed forward tried to keep him down. "I came to a bedroom—that was enough—I'm a gambler, I'm not ashamed. I came from there."

Then Julian: I heard you were dying, and I thought it was with Ernesto. I see—I see. You came here to warn him."

Tears in her voice, "I came here to beg him not to fight with you because I wanted you to be safe, my love."

He searched her hands compellingly, searched her face and wanted to know.

Then why were you in the bedroom?"

Because when I learned the truth and was going we heard some one coming, and we knew a word would put a wrong interpretation on the

The wounded man groaned, "the world and relapsed into unconsciousness.

One of the doctors addressed Severo. "We cannot be responsible for Don Julian's life unless he has perfect rest."

All night long the wife remained by her husband's side with the exception of an occasional visit to her own home. Teodora was not consulted, she was like a guest remaining on sufferance.

Under the pact that Julian must not be disturbed, she was forbidden entry to his room. That was the law's word.

So long as my husband lives I shall rule in this house" she said boldly. "I will not leave; I am giving you notice. Now and out of my way, or I shall know how to make you!"

And she almost ran to the bedside of her husband. He lay, with closed eyes motionless, apparently lifeless; and she looked down at him, wondering where was the faith he had promised to maintain forever and ever.

The opening eyes gave her no comfort; they rested uncleverly on her for a second, then glared with hatred.

His voice sounded hollow, reproachful. "You are here because I am weak and cannot help myself! By what right do you dare to face me?"

A ray from the afternoon sun illumined the room. The woman fell to her knees and, with her hands raised, prayed that the God of Love and Justice might enlighten this man who had forsworn her.

Could a woman who had sinned against the marriage laws speak like this—look like this? No, the answer burned itself behind the barrier of jealous suspicion that had enveloped his heart."

He beckoned with a weak finger

when she raised her head.

Was this to be the end of her suffering? She came to him, as very eagerly as a child who seeks comforting and he folded her in his arms and wept with her; she tried to explain, to make clear that her aching heart had actuated her steps that he was hers and she his for all time.

Mrs. Solomon Says—

By HELEN ROWLAND

Copyright, 1920 by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

BE glad, my Daughter; rejoice and be glad!

Give thanks that thou livest in the Day of A Thousand Follies—the Day of Sweetness and Light, and moving pictures, and baseball, and cabarets, and phonographs, and golf, and motor cars!

The Day of a Thousand PLAYTHINGS and grown-up "children"!

For, behold, every wife possesseth a grown-up "baby"!

Not the kind that feedeth upon porridge and the kind that feedeth upon flattery.

Not the kind that howleth throughout the night—but the kind that ariseth and howleth at a baseball game.

Not the kind that must be nursed through the measles—but the kind that requireth to be nursed through the blues and grouches and dosed with soothing syrup.

Not the kind that spattereth the tablecloth and shatttereth its toys—but the kind that filleth the house with smoke and ashes and cigarette stumps, spattereth soap suds over the bathroom, and leaveth its clothes wheresoever it dropped from.

Not the kind that liketh not to sleep—but the kind that must be coaxed to and diverted and kept AWAKE after dinner!

Yea, verily, verily, every man is a Peter Pan—a thing of fancies and a boy forever!

Therefore, if thou wouldst be a happy wife, I charge thee, when thou weddest, waste not thy substance upon laces and lingerie, and bakin tins and enameled jewels, but fill the closets of thine house with TOYS: with dime novels and with comic magazines, with golf sticks and phonographs and fox-trot records, with picture puzzles, and Ouija boards and tennis balls and ping-pong tackle!

Seek no to acquire a knowledge of literature, and of business, and of politics, but to acquire a knowledge of the newest dance steps, and the latest popular songs, and the favorite movie stars, and the brightest vaudeville jokes.

Aspire not to reform thine husband, neither to "uplift" him, but to ENTERTAIN him!

For, behold, when a man weddeth, he is not looking for salvation, but for recreation; he is not seeking conversion, but diversion.

And a little "reformer" is a deadly thing!

Go to! When thou playest at the prattle of a babe, and pretendest to play "pat-a-cake" dost thou not adore thee?

Likewise, when thou laughest at a man's wit and pretendest to enjoy his games, he shall call thee blessed and praise thine "understanding."

For every man's vision of a perfect mate is not a soul-mate, but a playmate. She weareth not a halo, but a cap and bells!

And an ideal Wife is one that knoweth how to be a Mother to her own husband.

Verily, verily, the woman who holdeth sway over a man's heart forever is she who keepth him eternally AMUSED!

CHAPTER XLVI.

MISS CYNTHIA PAIGE had been doing some serious thinking alone in her room this afternoon. She and her brother had been invited to attend the informal party at Daisy's this evening—although the only other "elder folk" there would be Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood. But the presence of Barbara's uncle and aunt would set the mark of their public approval upon the engagement of their niece.

Cynthia was not yet satisfied. If she could only persuade Barbara to name the date for her wedding. Five or six months were long enough for an engagement to last. November would be about the right month for the marriage.

The more she thought of the matter, the more determined was she that the wedding must take place next Autumn. The flurry and excitement of the affair would be over in time to allow Arthur and herself to settle down comfortably together for the Winter. Cynthia found this fuss over Barbara trying to the nerves. The sooner the girl was married and in her own home the better.

A light footfall passing her door made her call: "Barbara, is that you?"

"Yes" the girl answered, appearing in the door. "Do you want me?"

"Come in. I was just thinking about you. Where have you been? You've been gone ages, it!"

"I have been down in the kitchen."

"What were you doing in the kitchen?"

"Writing a letter" was the succinct reply.

She was looking at her aunt, and her tone was one that aroused the latter's curiosity. "Who are you supposed to see here, Barbara?"

"Oh, all the old friends, of course," was the answer.

Barbara repeated the word "old," and there was a very slight

"About five months off," the woman said. "That is surely long enough for you to be engaged to a man you have known for years."

"I—I had not thought of its being so soon," Barbara stammered.

"Well, think about it now, child, and decide. We will have the Summer in which to get ready for the wedding—and it will mean less of a strain on your uncle and me than if we had to wait through the Winter—knowing all the while that it will be your last Winter with us."

There was silence. Her last Winter! Barbara had not considered that. How could she bear it?

Her aunt spoke again, as if to make it impossible for the girl to change her mind.

"Talk it over with John when you get the chance, my dear. Of course you will do as he thinks best."

ABOUT OUR GOOD FRIEND

McDougall

Copyright, 1920, by The Ledger Syndicate

McDOUGALL
VARIATIONS— M(a)cDougal, M(a)cDougald.
RACIAL ORIGIN—Scottish and Irish.
SOURCE—A given name.

THERE are many who hold there is a difference between names which begin with "Mc" and those which begin with "Mac," and that the proper pronunciation of them are "mic" and "mac," respectively. Such is not the case. "Mc" and "Mac" are the same, and the proper pronunciation of both is "mac." The prefixes both mean the same thing—"descendant of."

The only difference that does exist is due to the rather general modern custom among the Irish of abbreviating "Mac" to "Mc" in the spelling. So there is an inference, though not an infallible one, that the family which spells its name with an "Mc" is Irish, and the one that uses "Mac" is Scottish.

The family name of McDougall, in its various forms, probably is more common in Scotland than in Ireland, but it is far from being a rarity in the latter country.

It is, of course, a Celtic name, and like virtually all the family names which have developed under purely Gaelic influences, without interference of Anglo-Saxon or Norman influences, is derived from a given name. Unlike other races, the Gaels never took their family names from words denoting geographical location or personal characteristics. It is true, however, that the bulk of their given names, from which the family names were developed, were so founded on words denoting some personal peculiarity or attribute.

The given name Dugald, from which the various forms of McDougall originated, falls within this classification. It means "dark stranger."

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splurg, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-one.

There are substitutes and imitations as there are for the diamond, for anything of value. One might almost say that that which is not copied has no value. So you have had the signature of Chas. H. VERMONT LABOR IN DEBS PLEA

Body In Convention at St. Albans Discusses Free Ireland Resolution

St. Albans, Vt., Aug. 11.—Discussion of resolutions favoring complete amnesty for political prisoners in general and Eugene V. Debs in particular, freedom for Ireland and recognition of the Irish Republic by the United States and adoption of a resolution pledging co-operation with the Federal board for vocational training for ex-service men, took up the greater part of the session of the Vermont State Labor Federation meeting here.

Final action on the resolution favoring amnesty for political prisoners was not reached before the morning session adjourned and the bitter debate on the floor of the convention and the stiff opposition raised to the proposal made by Alexander Ironside of Barre indicated that the resolution would probably be lost.

The Irish resolution found many supporters among the delegates and indications point to its adoption with comparatively little debate. The resolution on Ireland was presented for action by Joseph E. Moore of Burlington.

$100,000 ESTATE GOES TO MISSION SOCIETIES

Middletown, Conn., Aug. 12—Through the death of Mrs. Mary M. C. Berrie, of this city, an estate valued at about $100,000 will be divided between the Congregational Home Missionary Society and the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Mrs. Berrie, who died of anoplexy, was a direct descendant of Richard Mather, who came over in the Mayflower.

She stipulated in her will that her property should go to her son, Allyn M. Berrie, or his heirs, or be divided as above specified.

The son died in the service in France without having married.

ICE CREAM DRIVER SAYS HE LOST $250

Lawrence, Aug. 12—Because he failed to turn in his collections amounting to $250, William Stevenson, employed as a driver for a local ice cream concern has been arrested on a charge of larceny, on complaint of the firm manager. According to counsel for the young man he admits that he failed to turn in the money, but lost it while he was intoxicated. The case was heard in court and the driver said he was willing to make restitution.

TAKE PHOSPHATE WITH MEALS IN SUMMER-TIME

Your Nerves Demand It. Your Blood Needs It, Say Physicians.

There's not enough phosphorus in modern food to benefit nearly one-half of the men and women of America, scientists say.

To overcome this lack of an element of your body that is necessary to your health, your happiness and even your success in life, weak, anaemic, nervous run-down people are advised to take Nitro-Phosphate as dispensed in leading drug stores in the original package.

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve and are ofttimes thin, weak and sadly lacking in firm, healthy flesh, Joseph D. Harrigan, formerly Visiting Specialist North Eastern Dispensary, N. Y., says: "Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come for treatment trembling and shaking, their nerve force almost exhausted, and in many such cases the administering of Nitro-Phosphate has produced seemingly magical results."

People who feel the heat of Summer, tire easily and often become irritable and despondent, should get Nitro-Phosphate an inexpensive and helpful friend.

Druggists report a wonderful increase in demand from men and women who are anxious to renew oldtime ambition and who are making an honest effort to become vigorous and keen-minded, with a power of endurance that denotes almost perfect health.

They ask for Nitro-Phosphate because they know they need an inexpensive organic phosphate.

Mars Signalling Us, Says Flammarion

By Universal Service.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Mars is attempting to signal the earth by means of telephotography, according to Camille Flammarion, the famous French astronomer. He asserts that the white spot which recently appeared on the Martian equatorial plateau, could not possibly have been snow because this is the planet's summer time. "It is the third time since 1879 that the noted spot, which cannot be accounted for except as an effort by the Martians to communicate with the earth, has appeared," he said.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

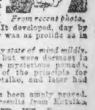
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR CROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER



My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a hair growth. To-day, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair. No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and now my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

But I was astonished and happy in expressing my state of mind mildly.

Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the brain, awaiting the fertilizing properties possessed. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principles for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and have put the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fevers, parasitic growths or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like live seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos and brushing which contain alkalies and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

For women's hair.

RAILROADS ASKED TO AID WATER CARRIERS

Washington, Aug. 12.—Railroads carrying freight between Chicago, Buffalo and New York have been asked to voluntarily readjust their rates so that the water carriers may get a larger proportion of the waterrail rates in order to induce the lake carriers to accept grain cargoes.

The appeal was made to Daniel Willard of the Railroad Executives' association by Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa and President S. J. Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation, following assurances of Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission that the proposal was looked upon with favor by the commission.

BANKERS HAVE A HAND IN MARKET

By BROADAW WALL.

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

New York, Aug. 12.—Stocks were all buoyant in Wall Street yesterday and material net advances were on record at the end of the day in nearly everything. It was simply a reaction from the pessimism of recent days. The buying was partly for short account, but the improvement was due chiefly to the fact that banks eased up on the business men, whom they have been separating from their investments.

What little short interest there was, covered quickly. Professionals were recognizing the hands of bankers in the market refrained from further selling. Therefore the market within the next day or two will be permitted to prove itself.

Money was at 7 per cent. for renewals, and fell to 6¾ per cent. in the late hour. Sterling was stronger. The foreign situation was not improved, but rather became more complicated because of President Wilson's note to the allies. The financial world looks upon the Russian situation as another Mexican muddle. It is easy by more important complications likely to grow out of it.

Although unofficial denial is made, there is high authority for stating that the Maxwell-Chalmers merger has been taken over by a syndicate in the interest of the Willys-Overland Company, and that one name will be added, making the Willys-Overland a great concern on the order of the General Motors.

The fluctuations petroleum stocks were conspicuous for their strength. Shipping shares also came back rather sharply, but this was due largely to a short interest which had selected them as easy victims.

The fact that railroad stocks did not gain as much as the industrials showed that the recovery was purely technical.

Much of the strength of sterling is due to the speculative purchases by exchange brokers.

German Marks in Abundance

People who are thinking of speculating in German marks should study Bank of Germany reports before risking their money. On August 5, the date of this institution's latest report, it had 55,768,500,000 marks in circulation, an increase of 1,755,400,000 since the end of July, while the gold holdings amounted to but 1,891,600,000 marks, a decrease of 100,000.

Silk Stock Increases

Silk held in storage in this country increased within a month, according to trade statistics. The amount held in New York warehouses on July 31 was 45,819 bales, while on August 1 holdings totaled 52,268. Of this aggregate Japanese silk amounted to 26,639 bales.

FOREIGN NEWS AIDS BEARS

Prices Receded at Opening, With Oils and Steels Leading the Decline

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York on the whole at noon, there having been a rally in the second hour in which most of the fractional losses disappeated. Oils recovered losses an a rule, while steels and motors were up in most instances. Rails, equipments and sugars improved. Trading was not much more active than yesterday, first hour transactions totalling less than 140,000 shares.

The renewal rate on call loans was again 7 per cent. Foreign exchange rates were higher at the opening, when sterling was 3 cents higher. Hoosier $3.67½, up 1½ cents; francs $.0720, up .0002; lire $.0395, unchanged; marks $.0317, up .0003.

Strongest issues at the end of the morning included American Locomotive, Woolen preferred, Crucible, Retail Stores, Replogle, Texas Co. and Vanadium. They were up from one to two points.

REACTED AT OPENING.

After going up yesterday, stocks reacted at the opening today and continued to recede. In most instances declines were small, but this was not true of Mexican Petroleum or Pan-American. The former sold down three points and the latter one on first sales. Both sold still lower later. Houston Oil sagged four. Baldwin fell the fractional among equipments and U. S. Steel dropped a point quickly. Tobaccos were most conspicuous for a while. Rails were quiet, with Reading the most active and Canadian Pacific the weakest. Not much was done in motors. Shell Transport, selling ex-rights, was twenty below Wednesday's final quotation. The recessional lasted about thirty minutes and then the market steadied because of buying by professionals, the moment on their technical position. Bears tested the list for weak spots, but did not begin the day by any concerted attack. The market is said to be oversold to an extent not known for months and within a few days banking interests have rendered enough support to make the plungers more conservative about commitments.

SOLD ON A RUMOR.

One reason given for selling this morning was a rumor which got around in financial district to the effect that discord had developed between the French and British governments over the course the allies should take to aid Poland. It was quickly branded as baseless, but not before it had served the purpose of its promulgators. Before the end of the first hour a number of leaders in the list had turned the opening and the tone was much improved. Early strength in foreign exchanges promoted the idea that the war situation was no worse. But a London cablegram stated that the British ambassador sent to see General Weygand, the French commander, found him "extremely anxious." Anyhow Wall street traders were made cautious.

LOCAL TRADING VERY QUIET

Price Movement Slow and Irregular in Boston; Better Tone to Curb

At the opening there was very little price movement on the Boston Exchange and the market was quite as dull as it was narrow. An unusual number of initial sales were at unchanged prices. Island Creek receded a point and other changes until well into the second hour were fractional only. Interest in local stocks was scant. What movement developed was irregular. Morning losses outnumbered gains. More coppers than usual were dealt in during the forenoon and they were mixed as to trend.

Among issues to sustain small losses were Allouez, North Butte, New Haven, United Fruit, United Shoe, Ventura, Carson Hill, Swift International and Bigheart. Small gains were made by American Telephone, Old Dominion, New Cornelia, Davis Daly, Libby and Swift & Co.

BETTER TONE TO CURB.

The Curb had a somewhat opening, but a better tone developed. Advances at the start were Crystal, Eureka, Mutual, River Dell, Tonopah and Tonopah Extension. Weak ones included Arizona Tip Top, Bagdad and Black Hawk. Most of the early trading was in low issues. Mutual and Eureka showed early activity.

At the end of an hour Eurekas was up 6 cents at 22 cents and Mutual 1-16 at 1⅜, while Bagdad had recovered its loss and Texas had lost its gain.

The New River Company has declared a dividend of one share on the common stock, payable August 20 to holders of record August 16. In lieu of selling its next issue of accumulations, was the February 1, 1919.

METAL MARKET QUIET, NO CALL FOR COPPER

The market for metals is quiet, there being no demand for copper to speak of while tin selling is slow and zinc consumers are holding off. Lead is described as steady, with spot sales at 6.75@6.85c. Zinc prices in consumers are still asking 13 cents a pound for copper, it is rumored that they will shade prices to get business of a fair amount. But most of the present buying is for hand to mouth requirements and small agencies, who are quoting from 18¾ to 14½ cents a pound, are getting the bulk of the orders.

The Geological Survey, in an advance statement of the United States industry's 1919 smelter production of primary copper at 1,311,000,000 pounds, a decrease of 31.3 per cent. The average 1912 selling price was 13.6 cents a pound.

Cotton Market Opening

New York, Aug. 12.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of 15 to 30 points on active months. Liverpool was reported that the National Growers' Association had advised curtailment of acreage 25%, a loss of 11 points in two weeks. Trade in the spot cotton was said to be quiet at the time, but offerings appeared to be absorbed well by consuming interests. Opening prices on fully 35 points from the lowest of the season. October, 31.50; December, 29.50; January, 29.00; March, 28.60; May, 28.30; June, 28.00 to 28.20; July, 27.90 bid.

COAL SHORTAGE DUE TO FOREIGN SHIPMENTS

The coal shortages of which New England has the most reason to complain is due not alone to inadequate transportation facilities but to the large amount exported. Foreigners have been getting fuel needed at home. Department of Commerce figures show that during the fiscal year ended with June bituminous exports totaled 6,000,000 tons more than for the preceding seven months.

During the last fiscal year 33,976,335 tons of bituminous coal, worth $132,-229,976, were shipped abroad, compared with 19,152,337 tons, valued at $75,626,606, during the year before. Canada took nearly half of the exports, receiving 10,470,516 tons, Italy, 6,982,773 and Cuba, 81,243,098.

MUST GIVE UP OIL "GRABS"

Leading Point in Colby Note Is to Force Allies to Retire from Seized Lands

Washington, Aug. 12.—It has developed that the note sent by the United States to the Italian Ambassador and made public Wednesday, was in reality a circular note to all the world. It went much further than a mere declaration of policy on the Russo-Polish situation.

It not only declares that the freedom of Poland must be maintained, but it is a notice to the world that the original boundaries of the former Russian empire, except in the case of Finland, Ethnic Poland and portions of Armenia, must be restored to the Russian people.

It is aimed at the nations of the world with the United States in opposition to the apparent imperialistic plans of Great Britain and France and the establishment of government in Russia which will be representative of the Russian people.

Secretary Colby stated that plans are being formed

"She had button eyes and a snub nose and her attire was transparent—if that interests you." She rested her elbow on the edge of the box, supporting her chin on her cupped palm.

They were dancing again. Grayson came and took out Helen; a number of men arrived clamoring for Stephanie. She finally went out with Verne, but not liking the way he held her, left him planted and returned to the box, where a number of hilarious young men had gathered.

Harry Belter said:

"What's the trouble, Steve? I never saw you glum before in all my life!"

"I'm not glum," she said with a forced little laugh, "I'm thirsty. Senior Bacchus! Isn't that enough to sadden any girl?"

Later Helen, returning from the floor, paused beside Stephanie to bend over her and whisper:

"Harry Belter is behaving like a fool. Don't take anything more, Steve."

The girl lifted her flushed face and laughed:

"Behaving like a fool? Harry? Why, he's behaving like a man! Don't take anything more, Steve! Why, I'm going to drink champagne by the bucketful! I'm going to dance with every man who asks me! I'm going to—"

"Steve!" Helen's voice was sharp. "Is that the way you're going to behave?"

"Yes," she said, "that's the way I'm going to behave. Why not? Isn't that the way you're behaving? Isn't that the way Grayson is behaving? Isn't that the way Verne is behaving? Isn't that the way all the men are behaving? Isn't that the way all the women are behaving? Isn't that the way you're behaving? Isn't that the way I'm behaving? Isn't that the way we're all behaving? Isn't that the way we're all going to behave? Isn't that the way we're all going to behave? Isn't that the way we're all going to behave

A Philosophy of Joy, but Not for Fathers and Mothers

There couldn't be a nicer philosophy than the joy philosophy, but who is to have the joy, and who is to be the philosopher?

Mr. Cox, Democratic candidate, says that his running mate, Roosevelt, emitted "philosophy of joy" in his speech endorsing the Peace League, with fancy trimmings on the endorsement.

Mr. McCay's cartoon on the right shows an individual getting ready for more joy, if the Peace League goes through. He is all ready to march up the aisle for the wedding of his second war bride.

Do not think it is imagination or misrepresentation to say that profiteers reading "Peace League" speeches are getting ready to rent new strong boxes. Read from Tuesday's New York Times, supporter of the Peace League and friend of profiteers and high finance. The quotation is from the Times' Wall Street article written by a man who knows:

WAR STOCKS.

In some commission house offices they already are beginning to speculate on another European war, and, in the light of what happened five years ago, there are those who see what they are pleased to call the "optimistic side." In other words, they are beginning to talk of big war orders and of great prosperity for American companies which can PRODUCE THE GOODS which a war-smitten Europe will need. And the delightful optimists who talk this way have only one concern; they want to know which company is going to be the Bethlehem Steel of 1920.

You know what Bethlehem Steel did when war broke out? It went from about ten dollars a share to six hundred.

Cut out this Wall Street paragraph, show it to your friends that think the Peace League means peace. Call their attention to that charming line about American companies which "can PRODUCE THE GOODS which a war-smitten Europe will need." What about American fathers and mothers who must "produce the goods" that Europe would need from America in the shape of young men conscripted for foreign war?

All the newspapers that are ordinarily Republican, because the Republican party ordinarily represents high finance, are now for the Democratic party. This includes the Evening Post, owned by a partner in the J. Pierpont Morgan Company. They want a Democratic victory because that means a Peace League, and the Peace League would mean plenty of war, and war means, as the Times says, "big war orders and great prosperity for American companies which can produce the goods which a war-smitten Europe will need."

Study that paragraph from the Times' Wall Street column and study Mr. McCay's cartoon. Both are truthful.

War bride No. 1 is dead, now for bride No. 2. The dead American soldier in the background doesn't count, there are plenty more where he came from.

Peace League means war—WAR FOR THE UNITED STATES. It means gigantic profits, for "American companies that can produce the goods" sold to the Government. It means poverty and sorrow for American fathers and mothers that "produce the (human) goods" that Government takes at $30.00 a month.

Vote against the Peace League, against war bride No. 2, and against those clients of the New York Times that are "beginning to talk of big war orders and of great prosperity."

AS "BUGS" BAER VIEWS IT

The "Foolosophy of Joy" is joy for the politician and the profiteer and only foolosophy for the rest of us. But the financial Bluebeard must woo his war brides. If the "Foolosophy" fools us again, then the profiteer can lead his bride down the American blood-flowered aisle, gaily bedecked in her war loan wedding gown and carrying a bouquet of excess profits. The merry wedding bells are a funeral knell for the soldier. But we must have weddings, let the identification discs fall where they may.

Save the King of Food Fishes

Of salt water food fishes it will probably be agreed that the halibut is first in favor. It is a clean feeder, its flesh is firm, it dresses with little waste, "keeps" long in storage and is both nutritious and appetizing.

But though the salt seas are figuratively boundless, the supply of halibut is not. Most of the Eastern halibut used to come from the near Atlantic, often within a short radius, as fishing sailings go.

Today the bulk of the supply comes from the Northern Pacific, far above Vancouver, and unsparing commerce is pushing it further and further North. The halibut in the sea is going the way of the buffalo and deer on land, with as yet no organization of conservative sportsmen to protect it.

It is good news, therefore, that representatives of the United States and Canada have drafted a convention which, among other measures of restraint upon the ruthless extermination of animal life afloat, offers to the halibut a chance of survival. It marks off as closed certain breeding areas and establishes penalties for indiscriminate capture.

Agreements of this character to protect natural resources from the blind greed of man represent internationalism at its best, because they make for peace and plenty.

DON'T GAUGE YOUR FEELINGS BY THE CALENDAR

Get rid of the thoughts which are making your ambition sag.

Suppose you have had the flu and you feel weaker than you did a year ago at this time, and you tire out so quickly that you get discouraged at the little you accomplish in comparison to your past efforts.

Don't you know that you are greatly influenced by your state of mind?

Unhappiness and discontent produce headaches and lack of desire for proper exercise and ill health is perfectly natural under these conditions.

The simple fact of being a year older shouldn't make you feel a year nearer your grave.

Why think of each year as taking so much vitality and strength.

You know persons who are twenty years older than you are who are spry and happy and seem to get more out of life than they ever did, don't you?

You know others who are younger, but drab and complaining.

To which class do you belong? Be young in spirit, in heart, in hope.

Get away from the age bug-a-boo!

More Truth Than Poetry

The Old Thing Over Again

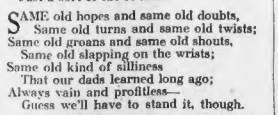
By S. E. KISER

SAME old dodges, same old tricks,
Same old hopes and same old fears;
Same old game of politics,
Handed down from former years.
Same old search for bugaboos,
Same old label, same old ties;
Same old match and same old fuse,
Same old dust in people's eyes.

"HEAVEN help us," says Joe Skaggs,
"If the G. O. P. gets in;
May as well pull down the flags—
Life will not be worth a pin!"
"I'll give up," says Henry Vance,
"If another Democrat
Wins through any slip or chance—
Lord defend us all from that!"

JOE is working by the day,
Henry draws a salary—
Neither lays a cent away;
Both are hard up constantly.
Both will work and both will find
Next year just as lean as this;
It will be the same old grind—
Just a sort of hit or miss.

SAME old hopes and same old doubts,
Same old turns and same old twists;
Same old groans and same old shouts,
Same old slapping on the wrists;
Same old kind of silliness
That our dads learned long ago;
Always vain and profitless—
Guess we'll have to stand it, though.



Bad Teeth Lead to Murder

PEOPLE were not formerly accustomed to regard teeth as so important. But they are. Bad teeth, we have long known, cause rheumatism. But the curing of Lord Gray's blindness by the removal of a single tooth was a scientific sensation. And here is an even greater one:

Mrs. Esther Miller Blake was caused by bad teeth to murder her own son! Bad teeth, pouring poisons into her system, caused her to go violently insane and in this state she killed her child. She was sent to an asylum as incurable. But this asylum happened to be the State Hospital at Trenton, N. J., where many remarkable cures of "incurables" have been made, and where they regard nothing as impossible. The removal of those bad teeth restored the woman's sanity!

This is one of the most remarkable cases on record, and is calculated to make one stop and think. Interestingly discussed in next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Would YOU, Miss Boston, be willing to marry just as papa said? Constance Vaucl in, beautiful and accomplished daughter of Samuel Vaucl in, multi-millionaire president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, was. Papa said: "No society fop, no 'horsey' young man need apply. Only a poor, socially unprominent, lone-headed, self-supporting young man who knows the value of a dollar, acceptable." And so Constance chose an unknown bank clerk. Now society is saying, "An interesting experiment. But will it work?"

The old "Florodora Sextette" was a veritable matrimonial bureau. Every one of the original six was shortly married—mostly to millionaires—and it is estimated that during the course of the phenomenal run 180 sextetters were wooed from the ranks by Cupid. Now with the "Florodora" revival, history promises to repeat itself. Ethel Lorse is the first of the new six to desert for matrimony. "Tell me pretty maiden," whispered the major. "I really must love somebody, and it might as well be you!" sang she, and Romance stepped in just as it did twenty years ago!

Ye TOWNE GOSSIP

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

DEAR K. C. B.: Suggested by you, I motored out to a little village with a white frame hotel on the main street. I stayed one night and in the evening sat on the porch with three old men. And listening to their conversation I was reminded of a tale of Norwegian mythology.

Up in the mountains of Norway there lived enormous men, as big as the mountains themselves. Trolls, they called them. One day three of them were sitting down in company. One of them asked a question. One hundred years passed and one of them answered. Another hundred years and the third Troll arose and stretched himself and said: "If you fellows are going to talk so much, I'm going."

Where do you get this stuff about village hotels?

H. M. HOLT.

YOU'VE FOUND the place.
I'VE DREAMED about.
AND I want to ask.
JUST WHERE it is.
SO I may go.
AND SIT out there.
WITH YOUR three old men.
AND JUST pretend.
THAT THE four of us.
WERE THE mythical men.
OF YOUR Norway hills.
AND WHERE we were.
WAS A quiet place.
OF MOUNTAIN tops.
WHERE NO one came.
AND NO word came.
OF THE world below.
OR OF its wars.
OR ITS Ponzis.
OR OF its strikes.
OR ITS profiteers.
OR ITS politics.
AND WE could walk.
WHERE'ER we would.
AND HAVE no fear.
WE'D BE run down.
BY GIANT cabs.
OR ARMY trucks.
OR THE U. S. mail.
IN ITS maddened rush.
I'D LIKE to be there.
FOR A day or two.
AND IF one of the four.
SHOULD BREAK the spell.
LIKE THE first Troll did.
I'D GET up and go.
LIKE THE other Troll.
AND IF I could.
I'D STAY away.
FOR ONE hundred years.
AND MAYBE then.
I'D FIND the world.
GROWN SANE again.
I THANK you.

WHY RIGHT MAN HAS OFTEN LOST

By Beatrice Fairfax

"DEAREST and loveliest of human beings, will you be mine?" said the hero of some romance I read in my youth.

For years I fancied that no proposal of marriage could be couched in words less poetic and thrilling! I suppose that down in the bottom of her heart, every woman has a foolish little ideal of how the great He who is coming to her some day will sink gently on one knee and in words that are almost song, beg her to be his forevermore.

And so, perhaps, on meeting the "one man in all the world," a girl finds suddenly that he doesn't mean a thing to her when it comes to the point, because he drives romance and the anticipated thrill of the great moment away by proposing so abominably.

A man whose devotion to his pretty wife is a by-word confided to me that he proposed to her in a dingy little tea-room.

"I wanted her to go into a life-partnership with her head as well as her heart," said he. "I didn't want a beautiful background to make the idea romantic, nor did I want to be alone with her where emotion might rule us. If she married me, it was going to be because she wanted to spend the rest of her life with me—not because she wanted to experience a thrilling moment and have the promise that it would be oft-repeated."

There was something in his idea, but it would have repelled a great many women.

The dazzle of cheap lovemaking has blinded many a woman's eyes so that when a great, shining love was offered her she couldn't see it.

What are we going to do about it?

Either men must all stop philandering, or girls must repel all attempts at lovemaking when there is no love, or else youth must grow up in a hurry and learn to distinguish the false from the true; or—and here I think lies the real solution:

Men must learn to study the women they love. They who have so many free emotional outlets must learn that women often starve for love, and that when it is offered it must be offered at once sincerely and attractively.

Letters to the Editor

Gives One Reason

Editor Boston American:

Let me tell you one of many reasons why I am a constant reader of the paper "for people who think." I find in it news and information that other journals do not, shall I say dare not? feature with any degree of prominence. From the editorial page of the Boston American I learn that this country is sending weapons of all kinds to those that fight Russia and is buying from England her "special make" of guns and ammunition and thousands of tons of explosives. You do well to question the intelligence of such methods, and you do well to call special attention to the sale by our government of 4,600 freight cars to Poland when, as you point out, "we haven't enough cars here for shipping coal necessary to keep our factories going and workmen employed." In this dark age there are many who hide the real issues in silence or bedeck them with words.

Twenty-Cent Blueberry Pie

In a year when the blueberry crop has been heralded as the largest in seventy-five years, when family parties start out of a Sunday morning in the faithful flivver and return at nightfall with baskets full and tales of high-bush and low-bush berries thicker than they had ever imagined, when bushes are so loaded that farmers are negligent with their "posting," knowing that there will be enough for all, why should one have to pay twenty cents for a piece of blueberry pie?

The picker demands high wages, it is true. The difficulty of transportation to market is great, the middleman must—as he thinks—live, the retailer has the habit of putting up the prices, a habit which the restaurant keeper has caught. All of which might account for a reasonable rise in the price of pie. But to twenty cents a cut? Never.—Boston Evening Transcript.

TORNADOES NOT FROM THUNDER STORMS

By Garrett P. Serviss

"WHAT reasons do meteorologists give for the small number of thunderstorms and cyclones on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards as compared with the many in the great central valleys?" asked an interested reader.

By "cyclone" you undoubtedly mean what meteorologists call a tornado. Cyclones are general storms, in the form of immense aerial eddies, sometimes as much as a thousand miles in diameter, while tornadoes are violent local atmospheric whirls which, where they touch the ground, are seldom more than a few hundred feet across.

Tornadoes are characterized by funnel-shaped clouds, of dark and terrible aspect, spinning with fearful velocity, tearing fences and buildings to pieces, and often sucking up heavy objects, and even men and animals, to a considerable height in the air.

Cause of Tornadoes

They occur most frequently along the southeastern edge of an advancing cyclone. They appear at the edge of the cyclone like the small eddies formed near the border of a large water-whirl. Their immediate cause is an unduly heated state of the air near the ground as compared with that some hundreds of feet above.

At sea a tornado assumes the form of a waterspout. But waterspouts are generally far less destructive phenomena than tornadoes, not only because their paths lie mostly across uninhabited wastes, but also because the surface of the water does not become intensely heated as that of the land, and the energies called into play by differences of temperature between superposed masses of air are proportionally less intense. Although the Atlantic coast is not exempt from tornadoes, yet they are relatively rare there, because of the different atmospheric conditions resulting from the near presence of the ocean without an intercepting barrier.

On the Pacific coast also, where tornadoes are unknown, and even thunderstorms are generally very rare, the tempering effect of the sea is to be considered. The cyclones that sweep over the central and eastern parts of the country, and which, as we have seen, furnish along their southern borders the atmospheric nurseries of tornadoes, do not touch the Pacific coast at all, since they have their origin to the east of the Rocky Mountains.

With regard to thunderstorms the case is somewhat similar as far as concerns their aptness to occur in some regions more frequently than in others. I notice in the Encyclopedia Britannica the surprising statement that a tornado "is usually formed within a thunderstorm," followed by this other, equally surprising, that "owing to their association with thunderstorms they (tornadoes) generally occur in warm weather."

Now, tornadoes do occur in warm weather, but not on account of any such association, and the statements quoted are very misleading since they would convey the impression to an uninformed reader that tornadoes are an outgrowth, or a consequence, of thunderstorms, whereas the two phenomena are simply independent results of a similar cause.

Different Characteristics

It is true, as Professor McAdie says, that tornadoes occur "under the same general conditions as thunderstorms, along the line of conflict between warm, moist south winds and cold north winds." But there are a thousand thunderstorms for one tornado, and over the greater part of the areas where thunderstorms are frequent in hot weather, tornadoes are extremely rare, or entirely unknown. In their characteristics when fully developed the two are quite different.

As with tornadoes, only differences in the generally prevailing atmospheric conditions, which in turn depend upon latitude, elevation, topographic features and relations, etc., can be invoked to explain the greater prevalence of thunderstorms in some regions than in others.
